Per la prima volta sul mercato internazionale della ceramica, il gres porcellanato ad alta prestazione tecnica colorato in massa si fa piccolo piccolo, non attraverso una lavorazione di taglio bensì ad un procedimento di pressatura che ne esalta la precisione della finitura. ETRURIA design continua il suo storico percorso controcorrente dando centralità e valore al piccolo formato, al contrario della proposta industriale di massa che è ormai incentrata esclusivamente sul grande e grandissimo formato. La collezione XXS per la sua grande progettualità, unita alle alte prestazioni tecniche, si rivolge prevalentemente al mondo dell'Hospitality.

For the first time on the international ceramics market, high-performance through-body coloured porcelain stoneware becomes really small, not through a cutting technique but through a pressing procedure that enhances the precision of the finishing. ETRURIA design is continuing along its traditional path, going against the trend by placing centre stage and promoting the small format tile, the opposite of what industrial mass production is currently offering with its exclusive focus on large and very large formats. Due to its suitability for a variety of projects and high-tech performance qualities, the XXS collection is mainly targeted at the world of Hospitality.
